

CASE STUDY

Analytics Architecture

Myriad Core increased the number of a hospital’s online mammogram sign-ups by 300%. We were able to correctly identify and mitigate funnel’s bottleneck after setting up conversion analytics and an experiment to test variables in the funnel.

By inserting the higher converting variables into the funnel we reduced the abandonment and now lots more women are successfully scheduling their mammograms online.

