

CASE STUDY

Website Projects

Myriad Core optimized a healthcare business’s website for performance, and decreased the average page load time by more than 60%.

Because of our website optimization work, nearly every one of the site’s KPIs moved in the desired direction, including bounce rate, number of pages viewed, and conversions.

The amount of data the business’s customers are required to download on their mobile devices also decreased significantly, which makes their customers happy.

